Father Darkleaf

BY CALVIN ROBINSON

Martha Street, Mon., April 12. The Sun was up at 5:35 this morning, and so was I. Why so early? Cause as how I was up a few mornings ago and watched the Sun rise and figured it was a good way to begin a good day. Add in the fact that April 12 happens to be Brightleaf's birthday.

* * *

Everything looks daisy early-pearly in the morning. It is a miracle, to watch the Sun rise. Used to watch the Sun rise at the beach. Like a gob of butter rising from a hot oyster stew. Many mornings you cannot watch a Sunrise, as clouds or flag shut off the view. Same thing at night, in case you like to be a star-gazer. But Nature rewards you, if you are patient. If you are a gardener, and have faith, you will see Nature's miracle of seed coming up and growing. Which reminds me, I must, simply must, get some of the seed I have on hand planted. They do not do well on the back porch!

* * *

I was not there, but there was one morning everyone was up early in Appomattox, April 9, 1865. Some had been up all night ... such as Ord's Infantry, marching all night to block any last chance General Lee had to escape encirclement.

* * *

Just checked with the National Park Service office at Old Appomattox Court House. On April 9, our date in History, 155 visitors entered the McLean House. April 10 was better, with 389. Visitor totals should pick up as the Bicentennial travel boom gets into high gear. Let's hope for lots of travel business in and around Appomattox as all Americans join hands to salute our Nation's birthday.

The Telephone Company has come out with a new Directory, and it features a front cover showing historic paper money from our nation's past. In case you are interested, my number remains 352-7366.

* * *

I chanced to compare the January and April sheets on the calendar, and they are the same, save for an extra day in January.

* * *

Oh my, I did most of my lawnmowing over the week end and paid for it with the wistful wailing of melancholy muscles, but was sorta proud and I hope can keep it up all summer long. For the instant thrill of seeing results, mower your own!

* * *

It is with regret that I note the death of Mr. R. A. Glenn. He lived to the age of one hundred and one. Many of his years were spent in Appomattox. His last years were spent in Connecticut and I heard from him from time to time. His favorite expression was "Fine and Dandy." He was manager of the former White Front store in Appomattox, and was leader of the Men's Bible Class at Liberty Baptist Church.

* * *

Ah yes, Appomattox ranked no. 42 in Virginia last year for highway traffic deaths. Three deaths, same as the year before. Drive carefully, for I may be out there on the road taking my chances, and yours!

Dedicates Shrine

Lt. Governor John N. Dalton was in Appomattox on Tuesday, April 6, to help dedicate a Freedom Shrine at Appomattox County High School.

The Exchange Club of Lynchburg presented the Freedom Shrine, a unique exhibit of 28 authentic reproductions of historically famous American documents spanning the 2200 years from the Mayflower Compact to the World War II Instrument of Surrender in the Pacific, to Appomattox County High School.

Announcement of the gift came earlier from the Exchange Club President, Dr. Johnnie E. Merritt. The collection will be on permanent display at the high school. Presentation on behalf of the Exchange Club was made by Fred Norvelle. Accepting the Freedom Shrine for Appomattox County High School was Cecil Tillery, Principal.

The Freedom Shrine is exclusively an Exchange Club project and an important part of the overall American Citizenship Program of Exchange. All of the historical papers in the Freedom Shrine collection are exact photographic reproductions of the priceless originals. Each document is permanently mounted on an individual wood-grained plaque and protected against deterioration and damage by plastic lamination.

A Community Easter Sunrise Service will be held at the Appomattox Court House National Historical Park on Sunday, April 18th. at 7:00 A.M. The speaker will be Rev. Clarence H. Davis of New Hope Baptist Church.

In the event of rain, the services will be held at the Memorial United Methodist Church.

Council authorized preliminary engineering design for an additional water storage tank and supply line in order to generate the information necessary for the full application.

An engineering firm in 1964 advised the Town of Appomattox that it was critically short in water storage capacity. It is very important to have ample storage facilities because at the present time if there should be a power failure there is less than a one-day supply of water available. It is also very important in connection with fire protection for the town and county.

In other business, council authorized the purchase of a totalizing flow-meter for sewer-

School Board Approves 1976-77 Budget

Meeting in regular session on Thursday, April 8, the Appomattox County School Board approved a budget for the 1976-77 session to accomplish the following objectives: to continue efforts to provide more effective educational experiences for all students; to meet the requirements of the Standards of Quality program approved by the State Legislature; to provide salaries for School Board employees which are comparable to salaries paid in surrounding divisions; and to provide a balanced and adequate program with the minimum required expenditures of $790 per pupil in average daily membership.

In 1976-77 the school system will continue to place emphasis on the improvement of present programs and activities. Initiation of new courses and expansion of old programs are not anticipated.

In recent years the school system has developed a very comprehensive program to meet the needs of the students. New programs which have been initiated include kindergarten for all eligible pupils, a sequential special education program, enrichment experiences for the gifted and/or talented pupils, expansion of vocational offerings at the senior high level and exploratory courses for seventh grade pupils.

Other major improvements in the school system in recent year include the completion of the Appomattox County High School, renovation of the Appomattox Middle School and the introduction of a comprehensive maintenance program.

To maintain the present program and to provide opportunities for continued improvement, the School Board has approved a 1976-77 budget of $2,925,398.00. This represents an increase of 6.5 per cent over the 1976-76 budget.

The local share of the total budget is $1,392,977.00. This includes $768,056.00 as the local share of the basic school fund, $337,580.00 from the state sales tax, $266,341 for debt service and $21,000.00 for capital outlay and other expenditures. The increase over the current budget is 1.1 percent.

Funds are included in the budget to provide a salary scale for teachers which ranges from $8100 for teachers with no experience to $11,750 for teachers with sixteen years experience. The scale for 1975-76 is $7800-$11,000 in sixteen steps. Teachers with a masters degree receive $1,000 above the regular scale.

The School Board feels that the proposed budget for 1976-77 is realistic and responsive to the needs of the county. Considerable time was given to the development of a budget that included improvements in salaries for all employees, funds for continued maintenance and improvement of school facilities, and funds for improvements in certain instructional areas.

The School Board expresses appreciation to school board

Winner In Oratorical Contest

Teresa Carolyn Cyrus was one of forty who volunteered for the Statewide Bicentennial Patrick Henry Oratorical Contest for Virginia High School Students, sponsored by the Governor and the General Assembly of Virginia, and the one who was the divisional winner and represented the Fifth Congressional District.

"Coach" George Blanton, history and economics teacher at ACHS, presented Teresa with a plaque from the Honorable Mills E. Godwin, Governor of Virginia, during an assembly program at the high school last week. Teresa also received a medal from the Governor of Virginia "with deepest appreciation for your continued support of representative government".

She spent a great deal of time researching "Thomas Jefferson and The Winning of Independence", and Coach Blanton says "many hours were spent practicing the deliverance of her speech". Teresa would be willing to give the speech to any civic organization in the area.

She said, "I really enjoyed doing this and know I have gained knowledge of Thomas Jefferson and the winning of independence and this makes my respect for my country even greater".

A rising senior at Appomattox County High School, Teresa plays volleyball, is a member of the National Honor Society, is Past President of the Campbell-Appomattox Federation, Future Homemakers of America, and will be the Chapter President of FHA at her school next week.

She is interested in communications and journalism and according to Coach Blanton, "Teresa has a talent for public speaking and I do hope she will continue this because I feel it would be an advantage to her in later life".

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cryus of Appomattox.

The competition is sponsored by the General Assembly and the Governor's Office and co-ordinated through the State Department of Education. It is designed to select the best young orator in Virginia. Competitors are required to give both an impromptu and extemperaneous speeches on Virginia's role in the revolution for independence. They will be judged on research and delivery.

To date contests have been conducted in nearly every high school in the state, with winners advancing to higher levels of competition in the statewide contest to find the present day Patrick Henry."

Volunteer members of the Appomattox County Rescue Squad responded to a total of 50 emergency calls during the month of April. Eight persons received injuries in six automobile accidents and seven persons required oxygen during transport to the hospital.

While answering the 50 calls, members spent 184¼ man-hours and travelled a total of 2,110 miles.

A breakdown of the calls is as follows: wrecks, 6; illness, 10; asthma attack, 1; strokes, 3; 1 false call; 1 person refused aid after arriving; 1 person had a broken bone and asthama attack at the same time; transports, 4; cuts, 4; drunk, 1; fights, 2; chest pains, 3; heart attacks, 3; dead on arrival, 2; gunshot wound, 1; assist with dragging at scene of drowning, 2; maternity, 1; kidney stone, 1; diabetic, 1; and nose bleed, 2.

In addition to answering emergency calls, two members travelled 180 miles in personal cards and spent 45 hours taking CPR Instructor Course and 24 hours were spent and a group travelled 69 miles making a CPR test run, this was to verify how well a heart monitering system would work in a vehicle while being read at Virginia Baptist Hospital. Two local physicians accompanied members on the trial run. Appomattox County Rescue Squad has been picked to do a pilot program in the area with the heart monitering system.

Winners Announced in Coloring Contest

Winners have been selected in the Times-Virginian Easter Coloring Contest. The response to this contest was very good with several hundred pictures from children throughout the county, the state, and some out-of-state participating. All the pictures were quite good but we could have only three winners.

In the up-to six years of age group, Susan LeGrand was chosen to receive first place in the contest. Mike Hodnett took first place honors in the 7 to 8 years of age group and Tambra Hamlet won first place honors in the 9 and 10 year-old group. Each of these first place winners will receive a check in the amount of $10.00 as a prize from the Times-Virginian.

The contest was made possible by some local businesses who sponsored the Easter Coloring Contest.

Warns Against Chain Letters

Fraudulent chain letters have been around for many years, but odds are better now that you may receive one, this time with a bicentennial theme, according to Postmaster O.S. McCoy.

"A scheme, which involves the mailing of U.S. Saving Bonds, has shown up in major urban centers of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, Virginia and Florida," she said.

"The letter with the Bicentennial gimmick," Mrs. McCoy explained, "urges those receiving it to mail $2.00 - $1.00 for each 100 years - - to the person whose name is first on the list, in celebration of our nation's 200 birthday."

Chief Postal Inspector C. Neil Benson has informed us that actual profit from chain letters are usually obtained only by those who orginate or enter the scheme very early.

Chain letters requesting money or other items of value are non-mailable under the Federal Mail Fraud Statute. They are considered to be fraudulent because of the likelihood that the chain will be broken and most participants will get nothing from their involvement.

The fact that chain letters are not mailed does not exclude the scheme from being a violation of law if the scheme

Board Must Take Action On Jail

No Increase In County Tax Levy

There will be no increase in the county tax levy this year according to the Board of Supervisors of Appomattox County meeting in regular session on Friday of last week.

The present tax levy is $5.50 per $100.00 valuation on real estate and personal property; $2.50 per $100.00 on livestock and farm machinery; and $1.00 on Merchants Capital.

The last increase came from the board in a May meeting held in 1974.

Lloyd G. Walton, Division Superintendent of Appomattox County Schools, presented the 1976-77 school budget to the board for approval. The board gave tentative approval to the $2,925,398 budget as presented and expressed pleasure in the fact that the increase over last year was only about 1 per cent.

In other action, the board adopted a dog ordinance requiring the confinement of all county dogs from May 15 until June 15. This will be a standing ordinance and will not have to come before the board each year for approval.

C. W. Gibbs, state jails superintendent, told the Appomattox supervisors Friday that they must either build a new jail or make other arrangements for the prisoners. The county has the second worst jail in the state, according to the Department of Corrections official. Gibbs estimated that a new jail would cost approximately $400,000.

He informed the board that there is no way to comply with federal and state regulations for treatment of prisoners at the Appomattox County jail.

The board of supervisors was first told in 1968 that they must make positive plans for a new jail or make arrangements that would be agreeable to state and federal laws but the board turned down plans to build a new jail then when the facility would have cost only $200,000.

J. E. Richardson, Sheriff, told the board that the current jail has a six-prisoner capacity but usually houses nine or ten prisoners. During crowded weekends some prisoners sleep on the floor.

Dr. S. R. Lawson, board chairman, asked Gibbs what action the state could take if the county deferred action on the jail for another year.

Gibbs answer was that the state board of corrections probably would order the jail closed within six months of any county move to defer action, adding that the state pays 90 per cent of the local jail's operating expenses and could order these withheld. The Department of Corrections can also rule that the facility not be used for detention.

Ninety per cent of local jails in the state now meet the federal and state requirements.

The state Board of Corrections has been occupied with the crowded prison system recently, taking some of the heat off local institutions but will be turning more and more to local jails.

Sheriff Richardson pointed out that after July 1 anyone receiving less than a six-month sentence must be housed in the local jail, rather than being transferred to prison. Richardson said he now could transfer prisoners to either Lynchburg, Farmville or Campbell County jails when he has no room, but sometimes the other jails are too crowded, too, and cannot handle his prisoners.

The state will fund only $25,000 of the cost of a new jail.

O. W. Martin, board member, stated that "for a jail, ours is in very good condition as far as I'm concerned."

The board took no action on Friday but will have to reach some decision in this matter in the near future.

J. A. Williams, Mayor of the Town of Pamplin, appeared before the board regarding the water system in the town of Pamplin. He said, "we are really in a bad fix for water down in Pamplin". They have to depend on wells owned by local citizens for their water supply. The supervisors told Williams they would support Pamplin's efforts to obtain federal funds to improve the town's water system in every possible way.
